on Mexican Border

In case war is declared with Mexico, Knox County will be well represented at the front. While there is no Company of the State Militia here, several have expressed intentions of organizing outfits. B. B. Golden, R. P. Black and W. H. Green, Spanish-American War Veterans, have notified President Wilson of their willingness to lead the Mountain Men, famous the world over for their good marksmanship, against Mexico. Wm. Baker is ready to organize a band.

Among those who are now in the service who claim Knox County as their home, and who will, in the event of war, be called upon to fight for their country, are Privates Otto and Wm. Hemphill, of I Co., 7th Infantry, now in Vera Cruz. In the 6th Cavalry, stationed at Texas City, Texas, is R. B. McDonald, a Corporal in the Band, and Artemus Hemphill, a Sergeant of F Troop. Leander Stuart, a Private of C Co., of the 26th Infantry, and Private Cook, of the 18th Infantry, are also stationed at Texas City, Texas, the mobilization point of the Second Division of the United States Army. These are not all, but all of whom we have any personal knowledge.

Death of Mrs. Harbin.

On last Sunday morning Mrs. Susan S. wife of C. L. Harbin, of Artemus, died in Louisville, where she had gone for an operation. The remains were brought to her home at Artemus, on Monday morning where the funeral services were held at the Christian Church, by Rev's A. E. Robertson, L. N. Bowlin, and R. B. Baker, after which the remains were brought to this city and interred in the City Cemetery.

Mrs. Harbin was born in Knox county, Ky., on the 27th day of March 1869, and was married to Mr. Harbin about 18 years ago. She was a member of the Christian Church, and had lived a consistent member therein for many years, and the tribute paid her by her neighbors at the funeral by the large concourse of people prove the high esteem in which she was held. She had no children, but has reared some three or four who looked upon her as their own mother.

She leaves a good, kind and loving husband and a host of friends to mourn her loss, she will be missed in the little town of Artemus, for everyone knew her and the smile that she constantly wore will be remembered for many years, as she had a kind and lovable disposition, and met everyone with a smile.

We extend to our old friend and school-mate our heartfelt sympathy in the loss of his best friend—his life partner, so keenly felt by him.

Surprised Pastor and Family

Bowling Green News.
Last night about 7:30 o'clock, while the Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Ashley were pleasantly engaged around their fireside, Mrs. Ashley doing some hand-work and the pastor romping about over the floor with his two boys, a loud noise brought him to the door of his study, there to find a host of his friends and people loaded with all kinds of good things, as a token of their love for him and his family and as an appreciation of their faithful services. The table was well loaded with all kinds of good things to eat and the pastor says:—"If you want a man to preach well, feed him." So look out for next Sunday. In addition to these many good things a substantial purse was given, sent by friends could not be present.

JOHN POWELL

Who Was Convicted Last Saturday of the Murder of Henry Fultz.

Mr. Powell was indicted on the 14th of April for burning the barn of Mr. R. N. Fultz, and killing young Henry Fultz, when he appeared upon the scene, and began to pursue Mr. Powell. The case was hard fought on both sides, the Commonwealth being represented by Hon. Joseph B. Snyder, Commonwealth's Attorney, J. F. Catron, County Attorney, and J. M. Robison, while the defense was represented by J. D. Tuggle and Joe B. Campbell. The jury after three days deliberation, brought in a verdict of guilty, and fixed the punishment at confinement in the State penitentiary for life.

The case will go to the Court of Appeals.

Knight of The Grip.

Hon. W. F. Parker, who has been with Altscheller & Co., of Louisville, resigned his position with that firm, and will represent J. Zeinmeister & Bro., of Louisville. Mr. Parker has made a splendid record with his former employers, and we are sure that he will make good with his present employers. He is a hustler and we are sure when it comes to soliciting trade when he calls on the mercantile trade he will land a good share of the general trade for the firm he represents. Frank learned much in the way of argumentative tactics while a member of the Legislature of Kentucky, which is of vantage to him in his present vocation. Here's hoping that Frank may meet with successes and that he will prove to his employers a wonderfully successful Knight of the Grip.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

To The People of Kentucky:

Whereas, the supreme need in our State today is that the forces which make for Character and christianity shall control the forces which make for intelligence and patriotism, and one of the greatest forces which make for character and christianity is the Sunday School.

Whereas, in an effort to produce a "Greater and Better Kentucky," the Kentucky Sunday School Association has appointed May third as a "Go to Sunday School Day," hoping to have one million people in Sunday School that day.

Whereas, the Sunday Schools of all denominations will observe this day with appropriate exercises, and are issuing invitations to all our citizens to attend Sunday School:

And, whereas, those who are interested in the welfare of our State should work together to produce the best citizenship:

Therefore, I, James B. McCreary, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, call upon all Kentuckians and the visitors within our borders to attend Sunday School in the church of their choice on May third 1914, that they may give encouragement and honor to those who teach in these schools, that they may see the work which is being done, and that they may in this service worship their God.

In Testimony Whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent, and the seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed. Done at Frankfort, the twenty-third day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and in the one hundred and twenty-second year of the Commonwealth.

JAMES B. MCCREARY,
By the Governor
C. F. Creelins, Sec. State.
By Cecil H. Vansant,
Asst. Secretary of State.

DIED.

On last Saturday morning, April 25th, 1914, the angel of death laid its icy hands upon the form of Mrs. Hiram McDonald, at their home on Trace Branch, three miles east of this city, and the spirit of this good woman sped its way through space to that Holy City, the New Jerusalem, where were waiting the many loved ones who have gone before her. Mrs. Mary McDonald was about 53 years old, married to Hiram McDonald in this county, in the year of 1874. She was born in the State of Tennessee, and as far as we can ascertain, she has no relatives living. She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1874, and since that day she has walked hand in hand with God, and every one who met her and became acquainted with her, soon learned of her many christian virtues. She leaves a husband, three daughters, four sons and a host of friends to mourn her loss, and to say that their loss is her eternal gain, is true as is with all who die as she did for she has always lived clinging to the Cross of Jesus, with her eyes and mind upon the Holy Jerusalem, in that City where she surely is to-day, and in company with loved ones who have gone before, she is shouting and giving praises.

May all our lives be as hers, for we believe that if they were, we would not have the dread of death, but would feel that the grave would be welcomed, there to rest until that great day shall come when we shall meet that innumerable host of Angels, accompanying our Savior, when He shall come in a cloud to claim his own.

PROTECTION AGAINST "WORMY FRUIT"

The fruit crop for nineteen-fourteen promises to be a very good one. The trees have passed the winter in good shape and unless a severe freeze occurs within the next few weeks the indications are that Kentucky will enjoy a banner fruit year. The interest in the production of better fruit has been very gratifying and many orchards that have been neglected for some time past have been pruned, sprayed and otherwise put in condition.

The spray that has been applied up to the present time has been the dormant application for San Jose scale principally. Many growers who are just starting to care for their orchards feel that this application is sufficient. They should remember that this application is made more as a protection to the tree and not so much for the fruit itself. The application that is to show greater results from a fruit standpoint has yet to be made, and it is known as the codling moth spray.

The codling moth is the insect that causes the apples to become "wormy" and drop off prematurely. It is safe to say that over fifty per cent. of the apples raised in the state are infested with the larvae of this insect. The moth is grayish brown in appearance and usually flies at night. The female moth deposits her eggs on the calyx end of the fruit and on nearby leaves and branches about blossoming time. The eggs hatch in from 5 to 10 days after they are laid. As soon as the worm hatches it crawls to the nearby apples and usually enters the open calyx or blossom end.

Advantage should be taken of the fact that the worm enters the open calyx of the apple and an attempt should be made to spray the trees just after the blossoms drop and before the calyx cup closes. If the spraying is delayed too long the calyx cup closes around the worm and it is impossible to reach it with poison. This spray should be directed down into the blossoms with as much force as possible.

Arsenate of lead and Paris green are the principal poisons used in combating this insect. Of the two, arsenate of lead is preferable because it adheres better and because it is not so liable to burn the foliage. It should be used at the rate of three pounds of arsenate of lead to fifty gallons of water. Paris green should be used at the rate of five to eight ounces to fifty gallons of water. One gallon of lime-sulfur should be added to forty gallons of the spray because of its value in checking the different fungus diseases, such as black rot and apple scab.

In this section there are two broods of codling moth in a year. The second brood usually makes its appearance from the middle of July to the first of August. The same spray as given above may be applied. If bitter rot is troublesome, Bordeaux mixture should be substituted for the lime-sulfur.

These sprayings are very important from a fruit standpoint. Particular effort should be made to place some of the material in every calyx cup. It is not so necessary to try and spray every leaf, but the operator should aim to reach all of the fruit.
